Headline:
Cold but dry for most, with sunny spells later.

Today:
A bright, frosty start with icy patches. Dry for most, with a chance of sunny spells later. However, southernmost parts are likely to see thicker cloud bringing rain, sleet, and possible hill snow mid morning until early afternoon. Generally breezy. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Tonight:
Dry for all, and becoming largely clear, giving a cold night throughout. Ice patches are likely to develop in southern areas. Winds easing overnight. Minimum temperature -4 deg C (25 deg F).

Sunday:
A sunny but frosty start. Remaining dry throughout, although cloud gradually increasing turning sunshine more hazy. Winds strengthening later in the day. Maximum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Cold and dry with sunny spells for Monday. Windy with outbreaks of sleet and snow on Tuesday. Winds easing on Wednesday, but rather cloudy with some rain or snow.
